LETTER OF TRANSMITTAL.

MICHIGAN,
DEPARTMENT OF STATE, }
Lansing, June 13, 1896. }

HON. JOHN T. RICH, Governor of the State of Michigan:

SIR—I present herewith Volume III of the State census of June 1, 1894, containing the statistics of soldiers, sailors and marines.

Very respectfully,

WASHINGTON GARDNER,

Secretary of State.

SUMMARY.

SOLDIERS, SAILORS AND MARINES.

UNITED STATES SOLDIERS OF THE CIVIL WAR.

The aggregate number of United States soldiers of the civil war returned is 42,544, of whom 34,946 are native and 7,598 foreign-born. Of the native, 1,525 are single men; 30,178 married; 2,871 widowed; 363 divorced, and for 9 the civil condition is not reported. Of the foreign-born, 455 are single; 6,267 married; 803 widowed; 69 divorced, and for 4 the civil condition is not reported.

The ages range from 40 to 95 years. There are 33 reported 40 years old, and 1 at 91, 1 at 92, 2 at 93, and 1 at 95. There are 249 who are 80 years old or over, and 2,464 who are 70 years old or over. The largest number reported at any one age is 3,137 at 50 years, and the largest number at any ten year period is 22,065, more than one-half the whole number, at the period 50 to 60. The ages of 33 are not reported.

The average age of all returned is 56.07 years. The average age of the native is 55.71 years, and of the foreign-born 57.70 years. The average age of the single is 55.85 years; of the married, 55.66; of the widowed, 60.19, and of the divorced, 56.16 years.

The population schedule required a return of the diseases or temporary disabilities of all persons who were, by reason of disease or disability, unable to attend to ordinary business or duties, on the day of the enumerator's visit in June, 1894. The diseases and disabilities of the United States soldiers, sailors and marines of the civil war are shown in table 8. The total number returned as sick or disabled is 6,105, which is 14.23 per cent, or about one in seven of the whole number. The number of the native is 4,964, and of the foreign-born 1,141. The native are 14.11 per cent of the native soldiers, sailors and marines, and the foreign-born 14.75 per cent of the foreign-born soldiers, sailors and marines.

CONFEDERATE SOLDIERS.

The number of Confederate soldiers in the State is 148, of whom 102 are native and 46 foreign-born. The number who are single is 11; married, 124; widowed, 12, and divorced, 1. The ages range from 43 to 82. The largest number reported at any one age is 13 at 52. The average age is 55.41 years.

UNITED STATES SAILORS AND MARINES.

The number of United States sailors and marines in the State is 359, of whom 223 are native and 136 foreign-born. The number single is 24; married, 291; widowed, 43, and divorced, 1.

UNITED STATES SOLDIERS OF THE MEXICAN WAR.

No report of soldiers of the Mexican war was required, yet enumerators have reported 41 in the State at the date of the census. Their nativity and civil condition are shown in table 6. The number native is 30, and foreign-born 11. The number single is 1; married, 27; widowed, 9, and divorced, 4. The youngest reported is 61, and the oldest 102. The number by ages, is as follows: 61 years, 1; 64, 3; 65, 2; 67, 3; 68, 2; 69, 7; 70, 1; 71, 2; 72, 6; 73, 2; 74, 2; 75, 2; 76, 3; 77, 1; 79, 1; 84, 2, and 102, 1. The average age is 72.34 years.

GENERAL REMARKS.

The total number of soldiers as compiled may doubtless be taken as substantially accurate, but it has been found impossible to make the ages, civil condition, and list of names entirely satisfactory.

The census return of each inhabitant was made on a single schedule page, but in two successive divisions of the page; that is, on the upper part of the page were entered the name and a portion of the statistics relating to each person, and on the corresponding line on the lower part of the page the statistics were completed. The question whether or not the person was a soldier in the late war was on the lower part of the schedule page. Many of the enumerators failed to make any answer to this question except in the case of persons who were soldiers, that is they did not write the word "no," as should have been done, in the case of persons who were not soldiers, with the result that in enumerating a soldier, the entry "United States soldier" was quite likely to be made on the wrong line. To illustrate, suppose the entry "United States soldier" be found in the proper column on line 4 in the lower part of the schedule page, and that it is the only entry in the column, there being no other soldier reported on the page. Referring to line 4 in the upper part of the page, where the name, age, civil condition and birthplace of the soldier should be reported, the name of a woman, perhaps a child, or of a person too young to have served in the civil war, is found. The explanation is, the enumerator having failed to make an entry on every line could and did make the entry "United States soldier" on the wrong line. In such cases it was often very difficult, sometimes impossible, to determine which of the persons enumerated on the page was the soldier. If a male old enough to have been a soldier was enumerated in the family, one of whose members was enumerated on line 4, and there was no other male of suitable age enumerated near by, then he was accepted and compiled as a United States soldier. If, however, there were others enumerated near by, a letter was written the enumerator requesting correction. Letters, however, were not always answered, and all answers did not contain desired corrections, and a choice between two or more persons became necessary. Of course it is not presumed such choices could be made in any considerable number of cases without some mistakes. Mistakes in names, ages, civil condition, and in the number of native and foreign-born respectively, have undoubtedly been made, yet, except those in names, the mistakes are not to be regarded as serious, as they do not affect either to increase or decrease the total number.

The list of names will be found to contain many errors due to illegible writing as well as errors referred to above. It was simply impossible to determine with certainty a large number of names. It will be exasperating to search the list for one's own name or that of a neighbor and not find it, but the work in this office has been done with the utmost care, and greater accuracy was out of the question.

The foregoing is the text as published in bulletin form December 26, 1895. In March, 1896, after the complete list of soldiers was in type, a letter was addressed to each enumerator, in which he was requested to revise the list for his enumeration district, and correct mistakes in spelling and any other errors he might discover. The list of names was enclosed with the letter, and the enumerator reminded that it was to be of date June 1, 1894. In addition a list of the soldiers in each county was sent the several G. A. R. Posts in the county with the request that the officers and members correct it so far as able, and General Daboll, Commander of the Department of Michigan G. A. R., by general order, directed that such revision and correction be made.

Both the census enumerators and the officers of the G. A. R. Posts have very generally responded, and the list of soldiers herein published is as finally corrected by their letters. The original list, however, has not been changed except in the spelling of names. Names of persons not returned as soldiers in the census and therefore omitted from the original list, but now so returned in letters, are printed in brackets immediately following the list for the township or ward where they are said to have resided June 1, 1894. It will doubtless occasion surprise that so many names appear within the brackets. To some it may perhaps suggest serious deficiency in the census returns. This is not necessarily the fact. A more probable explanation is that a large proportion of the men, though now residents of the townships or wards from which returned by letter, were not residents of such localities June 1, 1894. Many of these persons may be and doubtless are reported in the census from other localities where they were living June 1, 1894.

According to the letters 172 persons whose names are printed in the original list were not soldiers. The names of these have not been excluded from the list herein published, or in any way designated, for the reason that to exclude or so designate, even by mistake, a person who was a soldier, would be a great injustice. It is remarkable that in this list of more than forty thousand names no more than 172 have been found who are claimed not to have been soldiers.

The list contains only the names of U. S. soldiers of the civil war. Certain facts respecting Mexican soldiers, U. S. Marines, and Confederate soldiers residing in the State June 1, 1894, are shown in the tables, but no lists of their names are published.

The complications that have arisen and the difficulties experienced in the attempt to make a special compilation of surviving soldiers, sailors and marines, abundantly prove that if they are to be thus separated at the next and subsequent censuses, some better method of enumeration should be devised. It is probable that a schedule upon which they may be exclusively enumerated would answer the purpose. The enumerator is alone competent, and he only at the time of making the house to house canvass, to ascertain who are soldiers and make a report concerning them. After having enumerated a family upon the population schedule he can, and should be required to make on such separate schedule a second enumeration of the soldiers, sailors and marines in the family. This second enumeration will make it possible to collect, besides the facts enumerated respecting every citizen, information as to the company, regiment, or battery, date of enlistment and discharge of every soldier; the date of entering and discharge, and the vessel upon which service was rendered of every sailor or marine; whether wounded, if so in what action and the nature of the wound; if a prisoner of war, where and when taken, and how long in prison; whether suffering from any disease or disability contracted in the service, and if so its nature, and such other data as may be deemed interesting or valuable. A separate enumeration thus made ought to be as free from errors as any portion of the census.
